'Hello' From The Front

Area Marine 'Bounces' Voice Home

News travels fast, and in this case, the eager "Hello" of Marine Pfc. Charles Holben spanned land and sea via an unusual hookup from the front lines in Vietnam to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Holben of Industry RD 2.

The Holbens were at home Monday morning when the phone rang at 10:45. A voice asked, "Will you accept a collect call from Vietnam?" After the first apprehensive moments passed, the Holbens, both on extensions, heard the first words of greeting from their son, who was calling from 40 miles south of the DMZ line on his field telephone.

He explained to his relieved parents that his group, the 2nd Battalion of the 26th Marine Division, was advancing near Hill 180 near Phu Bai when he got the idea to send a call via a large television transmitter located on Hill 180. This in turn was bounced off a satellite to the United States, where the connection was made to the home at Industry.

server attached to the 81st millimeter company of the 2nd Battalion. His job is to scout the enemy, then give the firing range to his company.

Charlie said he called home because he's been too busy to write. During the day the company is engaged actively in combat and during the night he helps set up ambushes. He told his parents he gets only two hours sleep each night. He said he has had a few close calls, but so far everything is O.K.

HIS ONLY complaint was lack of adequate food while on combat. He said he hadn't planned to call home, but decided to at the last minute. The call cost $9 per minute. He was restricted to three minutes conversing with his parents. He asked his dad if he could call again in about 30 days. Mr. Holben agreed.

Charlie's unit is located in the combat area north of Danang near the South China Sea.

Charlie's brother Don is stationed with the Army in Germany.

Charlie quit school at Western Beaver High School to join the Marines last year. He hopes to receive his diploma while in the service, then plans to go to Alaska as a government civilian employee in new road construction.

Arms Cache Sought

Newark Holds Funerals For Victims Of Violence

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Newark Negroes bury the first of their riot dead today while other New Jersey cities fight flickers of racial trouble. Plainfield authorities hunted a cache of stolen arms.

Newark's night was quiet after nearly a week of bloody battles. A few shots Tuesday night punctured the peace which came to Plainfield after a white policeman had been killed by a Negro gang.

In New Brunswick, six miles from Plainfield, 100 Negroes marched to City Hall where Mayor Patricia Sheehan and Negro Councilman Aldrige Cooper Jr. urged calm upon them. In Paterson, north of Newark, a few rocks and bottles were thrown and firemen chased false alarms.

In Jersey City and Elizabeth all was normal in areas where sporadic violence burst Monday.

In Newark, funerals were scheduled for three of the 23 Negroes shot down during sprays of gunfire from Thursday through Sunday. The funeral of a white fire captain slain by a sniper also is being held. A white policeman was buried Tuesday.

Negro playwright Leroy Jones was among 37 persons indicted Tuesday on charges from Newark's riot. He was released on $25,000 bond on charges of carrying two revolvers.

Seventy indictments now have been returned for carrying concealed weapons and looting. Up to 700 cases are to go to the grand jury.

"The immediate problem is to preserve this calm—this deadly calm," said prosecutor Louis Kaplowitz in Plainfield. He called for residents of the zone sealed off with the help of state police and National Guard forces to turn in any guns they might hold.

He set a noon deadline for return of 36 semiautomatic rifles reported stolen from a munitions factory in nearby Middlesex. Mayor George Hetfield said the rifle crates were found in the riot area.

Negro volunteers continued to tour the trouble zone urging calm. Milt Campbell, a 1958 graduate of Newark's Lincoln High School, flew back to walk the streets talking peace.

Negro Leaders Plan 'Black Power' Session

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — From moderates through militants, the entire spectrum of Negro leadership will gather for a "black power" conference Thursday in a city still reeling from five days of racial violence.

Sponsors insist, however, that the conference, called to seek cures for some of the chronic ills of the Negro community, will help rather than hurt Newark, where more than half the population is nonwhite.

Dr. Nathan Wright, Newark pastor and conference chairman, said Tuesday the meeting here had the support of "many business and ministerial groups," despite misgivings of police and Gov. Richard J. Hughes.

Fires Started Within Erie's Negro Areas

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Two fires, one causing $150,000 damage, were set Tuesday night in the same Negro section of this city hit by racial disturbances two nights last week, police said.

A rag processing plant was destroyed by one of the blazes and its owner estimated the $150,000 damages.

Police said the second fire, three blocks away, caused only slight damage to a city surplus goods warehouse because they received a tip and firemen were able to put it out quickly.

About 200 Negroes, mostly in their twenties, gathered at the fires, but police using K-9 dogs cleared the area. There were no arrests.

Last Wednesday and Thursday violence broke out in Erie's Negro community and eight persons were arrested as cars were stopped and a store window shattered.

The state campus also would develop its own budget under the proposal, a departure from current financial ties to the parent school.

If the bill is enacted, the Salem and East Liverpool branches of Kent State University first would be required to step into state campus status before eligibility as a state university.

The Salem branch had a full-time enrollment in 1966-67 of 264 and East Liverpool an enrollment of 277.

The new legislation could mean an abrupt end to a bill now in the Senate Rules Com-

Only last week Millett, trying to set the record straight on standards a branch must attain before graduating to a four-year curriculum, reassessed the regent's position that a minimum enrollment of 5,000 full-time students must be reached before university status is granted.

But the bill introduced Tuesday would create an intermediate "state campus," which could be designated by the governor after branch enrollment passes 4,000.

Core of the measure is a provision setting forth a degree of autonomy for the branches. A nine-member advisory committee would be appointed by the governor and would serve as a consulting body for the parent university's board of trustees.

MOLINE, Ill. (AP) — Adela Kacprzyk befriended a neighbor Tuesday and ended up with her big toe imprisoned in the tailpipe of a small foreign car.

Firemen freed her from the car and doctors at a hospital freed her toe from a length of exhaust pipe the firemen had left. It all happened when Mrs. Kacprzyk went outdoors to empty garbage. She noticed her neighbor's car had rolled 300 feet down an alley and had come to rest against a retaining wall. She and the neighbor pushed it away from the wall but the car rolled back and trapped Mrs. Kacprzyk's toe.

Viet Rail Yards Ripped In U.S. Bomber Raids

Missile Site Also Struck Near Hanoi

Pilots Say Rockets Blew Up 3 Russian SAM's In Stadium

SAIGON (AP) — American bombers flew more heavy raids Tuesday against North Vietnam, striking at four major rail yards north of Hanoi and blasting a missile site inside a soccer stadium midway between Hanoi and Haiphong.

Pilots claimed their rockets and 750-pound bombs blew up three of the Soviet-made surface-to-air missiles and their launchers in the Hai Duong soccer stadium.

"We really nailed them good," reported Lt. Cmdr. Gene Lund, 33, of Biloxi, Miss., one of the carrier pilots who attacked the stadium and reported orange fire and smoke billowing from the missile site.

Navy, Air Force and Marine pilots flew 133 missions—about 400 individual strike sorties—over North Vietnam Tuesday and the raids cost one U.S. plane, the U.S. Command reported.

An Air Force F4 Phantom jet was downed by ground fire and was the 612th U.S. combat plane reported lost over North Vietnam. The two fliers were rescued by helicopter.

Hanoi's official news agency claimed four American planes were shot down Tuesday.

The ground war in South Vietnam slackened once again and only scattered skirmishes were reported. The South Vietnamese prepared to observe "National Shame Day" Thursday, the 13th anniversary of the 1954 Geneva accords which divided North and South Vietnam.

North Vietnamese artillery men fired 10 104mm rockets at a U.S. Marine amphibious tractor battalion 10 miles below the demilitarized zone and wounded eight Marines. There was no word whether the rockets hit any of the amphibious tractors, which carry 105mm howitzers.

Units of the U.S. Army's Task Force Oregon, made up of elements of the 101st Airborne Division, the 25th Infantry Division and the 196th Light Infantry Brigade, reported killing 42 Communist troops in several northern part of the country.

Soviet Hints Reluctance To Back Arab War Move

By The Associated Press

President Houari Boumediene of Algeria and Abdel Rahman Aref of Iraq, the latest Arab pilgrims to Moscow, apparently have failed to win Soviet backing for new military action soon against Israel.

Boumediene and Aref flew to Moscow after talks in Cairo Tuesday and reportedly the Soviets were preparing to take their case back to the Security Council.

The assembly, which was called by the Soviet Union, has frustrated Russian hopes for a condemnation of Israel as the aggressor in the June war and a demand that Israel take its troops off Arab soil. The assembly reconvened Thursday after a three-day recess and may wind up the special session before the end of the week.

The letter, which followed an Israeli claim that it has the right to patrol the canal by boat, was considered an indication that the Soviets were abandoning their attempt to get a resolution demanding Israeli withdrawal through the emergency U.N. General Assembly.

Some Roads Appeal Union Picket Lines In Strike Aftermath

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's railroads picked up momentum today as they rolled back toward normal operations. But some lines said full service was still a day or so away.

In the isolated instances where pickets still refused to bow to the congressional back-to-work order, the railroads were seeking relief in the courts.

By Tuesday night picketing had apparently stopped in California, but protest rallies were being planned by some machinists.

President Johnson Tuesday appointed a five-man panel headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to mediate the wage dispute that resulted in the first nationwide rail strike in 20 years.

Others on the panel will be Fred Kappel, retired president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.; Theodore Kheel, New York labor mediator; Leverett Saltonstall, former Republican senator from Massachusetts; and George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO.

The back-to-work legislation signed Monday by Johnson calls for a government-written settlement if the six shocrift unions and management are unable to reach agreement in 90 days.

The workers, who now average from $2.94 to $3.05 per hour, were seeking increases of 6.5 per cent this year and 5 per cent next year, plus 12.5 cents per hour each year for higher skilled men.

Councilmen At Wellsville To Tackle Budget Again

Wellsville Council will meet again Thursday night for a caucus session and special meeting to discuss the tentative budget for 1968 submitted by Mayor William Daugherty during Tuesday night's regular meeting.

Daugherty said the budget does not provide for either the anticipated first year layout of $12,000 to $13,000 in accrued liability for the police and fire pension funds or anticipated revenues from the sale of city-owned timber at the reservoir.

The new budget provides pay raises for all elected officials.

Council indicated it will enter into an agreement with Frank Salonica of Weirton, who has

Chester Will Get Offer From Lynn Ambulance

The Lynn Ambulance Co. of East Liverpool which has been providing service to the Chester area on a day-to-day basis will present a proposal to Chester Council Monday night in an effort to provide an operation similar to the one being carried out here.

James Walker, operator of the Lynn Service, appeared Tuesday night before a meeting of the Chester Volunteer Ambulance Squad and said he will bring a contract and proposal to Council during the next meeting.

Thomas Bowen, president of the volunteers and himself a councilman, said, "If he gives us a fair shake, we'll knock it off altogether."

"We'll look over his contract," Bowen added, indicating the volunteer idea would be scrapped if Walker's proposal is favorable.

City's Vital Revenue Source

The indispensable role which the city income tax plays in financing adequate city governmental services for East Liverpool was underscored again Monday night when Council was advised the levy produced $187,969 in the first six months of 1967.

The real estate property tax — once the prime source of operating funds for local governments — has been pushed into the background by the yield from the income levy.

East Liverpool's 1968 municipal government budget estimates that real estate taxes will produce $65,000 next year. But the income tax is expected to yield exactly five times as much, or $325,000.

What that means, in simple terms, is that property owners would be required to pay a tax rate five times as high as at present to support their city government if the income tax levy spread over a much broader base, did not take up the slack.

THIS IS NOT to indicate that the overall real estate tax rate would increase fivefold to bring in the same amount of money. But the millage specifically allotted for operation of the municipal government would have to be boosted by that ratio.

The lions' share of real estate tax money goes to the local school district. A study issued in 1966 showed that the city received only $7.70 out of each $41.20 collected per $1,000 valuation and just $2.20 of the $7.70 was earmarked for general fund purposes.

The study showed that the rate per $1,000 valuation rose from $28 in 1955 to $41.20 in 1965, but the city government got only 20 cents more per $1,000. Of the remaining $13.20 increase in the 10-year span, $11.90 went to the school system and $1.10 went to the county government.

Despite what might be termed a "token" increase in revenue paid the city out of real estate taxes, the cost of salaries, wages and fringe benefits for employees paid out of the general fund rose from $276,542 to $513,190 annually, a jump of $236,648 in the same 10-year period.

BECAUSE OF increased payroll costs and the steadily mounting prices paid for supplies, the city government has started to feel a financial pinch again.

But a situation that is mildly uncomfortable now would be truly catastrophic without the steady flow of revenue from the city income tax.

Even some of those who opposed the income tax most bitterly a few years ago have come to concede that it has meant the difference between municipal solvency — with reasonably adequate services — and a steady spiral into the chaos of literal bankruptcy.

THIS IS NOT to indicate that the overall real estate tax rate would increase fivefold to bring in the same amount of money. But the millage specifically allotted for operation of the municipal government would have to be boosted by that ratio.

Rocket Attack On DaNang

On-the-scene coverage of the Vietnam War by television gives Americans their first glimpse of a war in all dimensions of horror.

When they saw the pictures of the devastating attack on the U.S. Air Force base at DaNang, with millions of dollars' worth of planes going up in flames, buildings being destroyed and wounded and dead being carried away in a scene of chaos, they knew a fundamental fact about their country's adventure in power politics in Southeast Asia.

They did not need to be military experts, or even Secretary of Defense McNamara, who has been generous with appraisals of the war problem — all of them wrong — to understand that the salvo of enemy rockets which made a shambles of the DaNang base marked a turning point in the war.

The United States is now encountering long-range devastation that can blast its hope of an ultimate triumph into fiery oblivion.

Rockets fired from great distances with the accuracy demonstrated at DaNang can destroy every vestige of security in the war being fought in Vietnam. They can do to the United States what it has done with its aerial bombing. And it can do this in a way that will make it impossible to retaliate. There is no defense against rockets.

Even the faint hope of retiring to coastal strong points, instead of carrying on endlessly a fluid war of movement against guerrillas who fight and run, vanishes in the presence of rocket warfare.

This is nothing like short-range mortar warfare. This is rocketry—the new dimension of violence.

The military adventure in Southeast Asia has taken a turn for the worse. In a war that never has taken a turn for the better, despite repeated assurances of militarists and their apologists, the DaNang disaster looms large, somber and sobering.

The enemy won't need to repeat its DaNang "raid". The damage wrought, in casualties, equipment, buildings and morale, was of major proportions.

The Simplest Way Out

are not pertinent to the basic issue of compulsory school attendance.

Actually, they are not pertinent. Standards vary widely in public schools. Many private and parochial schools pay no attention to public school standards, yet are considered to be bona fide educational institutions.

The Supreme Court could cool off the Amish school issue once and for all by requiring Amish communities to furnish education of their own specification up to the same age as required by compulsory school attendance laws.

Remember 'Balkanization'?

The only way to restore railroad service was to force the strikers and their sympathizers to go back to the job. This would give union apologists a chance to cry, "Strike-breaking!" when the fact is many of them were tickled to have government take the ball away from the strikers.

They were biting the hand that rescued them. Ever since the '30s when the Roosevelt administration knocked itself out to give unions a green light, it has been a philosophical certainty they would be guilty eventually of the same excesses that had given capital a black eye when it had everything its own way. All power corrupts.

"Balkanization" of the labor movement is a union excess. It never was the intention to put industrial production at gun point for every union leader able to set up a picket line and play dog in the manger.

Then there was the Filipino lady who said the "blue seal" has been reduced by the new government administration in the Philippines.

She meant the smuggling there has been reduced by stricter enforcement. The term "blue seal" comes from the blue tax stamp on U.S. cigarettes packages. If a package of cigarettes in the Philippines has a "blue seal," it was smuggled in.

Legal cigarettes there have no blue seals.

Just thought I'd tip you off in case you ever happened to be buying cigarettes in the Philippines. You never know about the jet set.

Spare The Rod?

VICTOR RIESEL

Rebels Hinder Auto Talks

DETROIT — There's rust in Walter Reuther's hair but not in his style, even at "sixty" so the cameras and mikes and typewriters follow him into the inner sanctum and give the impression the auto union chief and policy-making corporate executives have not discussed this contract go-round before. They have. In secret. And they pretty much know what the final settlement will be — on a national scale.

This bargaining circus looks like a charade. But it is a science. What worries both Victor Riesel sides is not what goes on under the big tent, but the howling wind coming in from the boondocks. That's where a few rank and file committees, led by hyperthyroids, can strike a few strategic locals, shut down an entire corporation, cripple its defense production of parts and engines and stall the vast American war machine.

Therefore, look not for the moment to the oratorical performance of Reuther and his industrial counterparts. Look across the land. Look to the rank and file which has whipped up at least 50,000 local contract issues.

These started to pour into the managers of 140 GM plants in 72 cities Monday morning; to 107 installations "at Ford" in 44 states on Tuesday and so on to Chrysler on Wednesday.

Three years ago, GM shop stewards and local union leaders whipped up almost 25,000 such demands and struck heavily for them. It will happen again, it is believed among the insiders.

FOR EVERY LOCAL issue, somewhere there is a red-hot worker agitated over ventilation in his department, types of doors on toilets, speed of the assembly line, the monitoring of closed circuit television, time and motion study, distance between the parking lot and the plant gates; seniority rules which give the older members the best shifts and the younger ones the social-killing hours of the second and third shifts on some work.

These are strike issues. And a strike is a strike whether it is over profit sharing, or guaranteed annual salaries or relief time from the assembly line — the big issue last time.

There is doubt that Reuther or the companies, or the White House, or any force now can control the ever-younger rank and file. And just one local can cripple, for example, all of GM. On March 8 Reuther had to seize a rebel local in Mansfield, Ohio, which struck the GM Fisher Body plant. Had the rebels won, they could have crippled GM after a short while.

It was Reuther himself who once warned of the power inherent in a single local. This was on Sept. 21, 1961, two rounds ago. He had each reached a national settlement with GM. But some of the locals refused to return. They wanted victory on their local issues. The 280 member GM council of the United Auto Workers had voted to support the locals the previous night. Then Reuther called them back into session the next morning.

"One local union," warned Reuther, "can paralyze the entire corporation. We are not trying to sell the local unions down the river. But when we make a democratic decision we want them on the team."

The Council backed Reuther. Production was delayed for about a week while the rumbling died down and the parts and bodies began pouring down the pipeline.

BUT THAT WAS six years ago. Labor wasn't scarce. There was no war. The older workers were more numerous. The younger workers had not yet become a majority as they are now.

The young people are tough these days. They don't like being bumped by older workers into lower paying jobs or being laid off while older men with greater seniority hold the higher paying classifications. And the young ones plan to do something about it — and the local issues are well.

You won't see this on the TV screen. But go out at night among some of the plants ranging from New Jersey to Michigan. See some of "Hell's angels." See the motor bikes. They know Reuther is their president, but is he their leader? This is an era of civil disobedience. Reuther himself has helped foment the spirit of revolt. It has seeped down. It may explode upward.

LOOK, TOO, for action by the other unions. The auto firms deal with the International Union of Electrical Workers. Its young president, Paul Jennings, is in difficulty. He must deliver. He can't be overshadowed by the giant red-head. And there are also the Machinists and Operating Engineers. Remember, the International Assn. of Machinists, led by Roy Siemiller, has tackled industries almost as large as the Big Three — like the nation's railroads. And the others aren't going to stand by and let Reuther set the pattern this time.

Each has a veto power. It's a new era. The old one began in 1937 with the first GM contract — written by the men on top. Now the rank and file, who don't remember or care about the veterans of '37, are on the march themselves. They've listened to rhetoric. They believe it. They want what Reuther has been promising them.

Watch the rank and file. Watch those plants in the hinterland. Watch the youth. That's where the action will be at contract time one September morn.

Self-Government?

America today is giving the world the tragic impression it cannot govern itself.

Rail and mail service were disrupted when a timid Congress feared to offend labor unions.

Racial friction in Newark, Hartford, Buffalo, Cleveland, Chicago and other cities has reached a boiling point. Innocent persons have been killed or wounded. Mobs have looted and burned private businesses. National guardsmen have been called out to support the police only after the riots have broken out in the "target" cities.

Time was when the federal government, itself, acted promptly to prevent interruption to an orderly life. On July 3, 1894, President Cleveland said, "The mails must go through." He ordered federal troops to Chicago to enforce a court injunction issued the previous day declaring the railroad strike interfered with the mails and interstate commerce.

Again and again since that incident, the federal government has intervened in major strikes affecting the nation in a critical way.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN on Aug. 25, 1950, acting under a war-emergency statute of 1916, ordered the U.S. Army to take over the railroads when a strike was threatened.

Congress has the power to pass a law to prevent disastrous strikes in interstate commerce.

President Johnson recommended a mediation measure to forestall the railroad strike. It amounted to a form of compulsory arbitration.

But while the Senate passed the measure, the House dilly-dallied and weakened the bill. It had been drifting along in conference.

Some railroad unions lost patience and decided to go ahead with the strike.

Behind the scenes, the lobbying of the labor groups was defective. Not long ago, union-labor spokesmen boasted they had control of a majority of the House. This was achieved presumably through campaign contributions.

Congress has been less and less inclined to deal with threats to law and order arising from strikes and picket lines.

Over last weekend, a UPI dispatch quoted a spokesman for a labor union who warned railroad employees: "There will be picket lines and you don't dare cross them unless you want to have a big sore head from a 2-by-4 the next morning."

CONGRESS HAS procrastinated also with respect to legislation dealing with incitement to riot. Sponsors of a bill had a hard time forcing it out of committee.

Responsibility for law and order rests primarily with state and local government. But the real problem is how to deal with provocation of disorders.

Officials in state and city governments say there is no evidence that riots have been inspired by outside organizations or groups. How do they know? Communist activities, for instance, are not easy to detect.

Few of the agitating leaders may have sympathy with Communism, but prosecuting authorities grow timid when they read of court decisions upholding as free speech inflammatory declarations by rabble-rousers and hecklers which have encouraged mob violence.

Where, moreover, do all the shotguns, revolvers and other weapons come from? Poor people in ghettos haven't the money to buy them.

Gov. Hughes of New Jersey has called the Newark riot a case of "criminal insurrection."

Several months ago, a "hot summer" was predicted by Negro leaders for "target" cities. The outbursts in Newark and other communities should not have been a surprise. The federal, state and city governments had ample warning.

BUT FEAR of the Negro vote caused hesitation, and no organized effort was made to prevent the riots.

The excuse most often given is that Negroes are showing the effects of long-standing injustices. There is much truth in this, but, it may also be asked, of what good are "equal rights" if society gives way to mob rule?

Another "tragic era" in American history seems to have begun.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Recipients of the Chevalier degrees, highest honor in the Order of DeMolay, were Robert E. Weaver, Kenneth C. Pelly, William J. Miller, Winston L. Myers and James M. Walker, all past master councilors of Harding chapter.

Plans were completed for the formal opening in August of the American Legion Hospital, which occupied a part of Legion home on Wells Ave., Wellsville.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — About 300 attended a reception in St. Ann's Church hall, East End, to welcome Fr. John Rath, newly appointed pastor.

Jack Schonfeld, a 17-year-old high school senior who resided on Market St., received his private pilot's license at the McKee Seaplane base.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. J. P. Atkinson was elected president of the Rochester District Women's Missionary Society during the annual session at the camp site on Anderson Blvd.

W. E. Woods of Palissey St. received a check in the employee suggestion plan of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Mrs. Jeannette Ketchum was enrolled as a new member of the Merry Mixers Club.

Wellsville Redistricting Plan Falters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another attempt by House and Senate conferees to agree on a congressional redistricting bill appeared to be floundering today on an antiguerrymandering provision.

Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi commented, "We have everything to gain and nothing to lose. The legal angles must be explored though."

Most councilmen agreed with Lombardozzi, but George Lawton indicated Salonia should provide more to the city than just covering up garbage at the dump.

Dougherty said he felt the dump was not being covered adequately under the present system.

In other business, an ordinance was ordered allowing the city to vacate a portion of Walden Ave., skirting four parcels of property owned by Sam Maylone. The city is permitted by law to abandon quasi-streets and distribute the land to the adjoining property owners. Maylone holds all land at the site.

James Phillips requested a resolution from Council announcing its cooperation with the East Liverpool Area Transportation Committee plans.

Russell Keefer discussed the River Museum to guarantee access to the museum even after the proposed relocation of Route 7.

Council will meet with Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare to discuss street repairs.

Councilman Robert Taggart and Clerk Wayne Rose were excused from last night's meeting.

Keefer offered the invocation. Allen Baldwin presided.

Post 70 Begins Members' Drive

Harry Excell announced the 1968 membership drive is underway when American Legion Post 70 of Wellsville met Monday night.

Comdr. Jerome Gitschier reported last week's family picnic at James Lake was the largest to date, with more than 175 attending.

Sam Maylone reported on the county council meeting last Friday at East Palestine. He reminded members seats are still available on the chartered bus leaving for the state convention at Cincinnati Friday at 4 p.m.

Roger Hobson will report back with prices for a brick paint. William Boyce said he will give a report on a cornerstone or plaque to be mounted at the home when the beautification project is complete.

Gary Dawson, Lee Tice and Rich Messer Jr., veterans of Vietnam, were appointed to "secure and welcome" additional returnees. Dawson is in charge of the committee.

Ohio Jurist Retires

CLEVELAND (AP) — Judge Lee E. Skeel of the 8th District Ohio Court of Appeals has resigned effective Sept. 1, ending a 43-year career on the bench.

According to the Bible, the land of Goshen was given by Pharaoh to Jacob and his family.

Judge J. L. MacDonald noted that Martin was arrested three times last fall for speeding.

Martin pleaded guilty yesterday to failure to register a motor vehicle and operating it without license plates and was fined $25 and costs.

Other drivers fined were:

David G. Scott, Beloit RD 2, passing traffic on approach to curve, and Flora L. Shonce, Salem RD 4, speeding, $15 and costs each; Richard A. Dulin, Canton, and Mary D. Parks, Lisbon, speeding, $10 and costs each; Judith A. Dudick, Leetown, failure to signal left turn, and John I. Hays, Homestead, Ohio, unreasonable speed for highway conditions, $5 and costs each.

George T. Thompson, Rogers RD 1, was found guilty of a technical violation — displaying red lights on a motor vehicle in violation of a section of the code — and was ordered to pay $5 court costs.

Forfeiting appearance bonds were Robert Lynch, Cleveland, speeding, $30, and Robert McDonald, Akron, speeding, $20.

Columbiana's School Bonds Due New Vote

A bond issue to provide funds for enlargement of school facilities in Columbiana village is due for a second test at the polls at the Nov. 7 general election.

The Village School Board submitted a resolution to the County Election Board Tuesday afternoon asking a vote on an $840,000 proposal that would allow addition of 21 classrooms — 16 at the South Side School and five at Dixon Shool. It also would provide for renovation of the high school, furnishing and equipping school buildings and improving school sites.

As part of the enlargement program, the junior high school classes would be transferred to the South Side School.

The school board's resolution said County Auditor Kenneth Bell has estimated that a 2.7-mill levy would be required to retire the debt over a 23-year period.

Wearing an $800,000 price tag, the issue was defeated by a narrow margin at the November 1966 general election. The count showed 1,078 in favor of the issue and 1,108 against.

Meanwhile, the Lisbon Village School District filed a resolution with the Election Board Tuesday asking a vote at the November election on a five-year renewal of a 16-mill levy to provide funds for general operating expenses.

It would take effect in the 1968 tax year, which is the calendar year 1969, the resolution stipulated.

The latest two propositions raise to 12 the number of special questions and issued filed with the Election Board to date for the November election.

Soldier's Widow To Leave Korea, Live In Carolina

STOKES, N.C. (AP) — It took an act of Congress but a 29-year-old Korean widow of a U.S. soldier and their daughter will be allowed to live on a 100-acre farm near Stokes in northeastern North Carolina.

The bill will allow immediate entry to the United States for the child and Hyo Sub Paeng, widow of Army M. Sgt. Charlie E. Tripp. He died of cancer in 1964 and in his will left property to a sister, Mrs. James H. Harris, as trustee and guardian of his daughter.

Tripp's widow and their daughter, Patricia Ann, 5, have been living in Seoul, South Korea.

A bill to allow them to join Tripp's relatives near Stokes was given final approval by Congress Tuesday.

Tear Gas Gun Care Asked By City Health Department

The City Health Department, reporting that some are being sold here, issued a note of caution today on tear gas guns which are designed as protective weapons to ward off would-be attackers.

The guns have been involved in several recent accidental injuries, the department pointed out in quoting reports from the Food and Drug Administration.

A MINNEAPOLIS doctor accidentally discharged a tear gas cartridge into his hand, when he mistook it to be a spray dispenser.

In Missouri, a young boy lost the vision in one eye from the accidental firing of a tear gas device he thought was a miniature flash light.

A secretary accidentally triggered the firing mechanism of a pocket tear gas gun and shot herself in the palm of her right hand. She thought the gun was a mechanical pencil with different colored leads.

The Accident Prevention Unit of the Ohio Department of Health received another report of an accidental discharge of a tear gas device in an Ohio city that erupted from exposure to heat. The gun had been carried in an automobile and exploded while the driver was entering a parking lot. The driver was not injured, but had to make a quick stop and exit from the vehicle.

If you are in the market for a tear gas gun device, do not consider any that have no warning statement attached, city health officials urge.

Beaver Community College Discussed At CAC's Meeting

George Makar, registrar of no transportation to the Carnegie Community College of Beaver County, screened a film on the college and discussed available scholarships and loans when the Midland Neighborhood Center of the Community Action Committee met Monday night at the Borough Building.

Mrs. Lillie Jones, first vice president, conducted business in the absence of Mrs. J. C. Singletary, president, who is vacationing in Hawaii.

Mrs. Hattie Jones, manager of the center, and Mrs. Singletary will begin seeking donations from organizations in the Midland area for a petty cash fund. Discussion was held on the prepared Day Care Center. It will open as soon as a suitable building is obtained. Discussion also was held on the need of educating the public of the services available at the center.

Mrs. Jones reported 10 of the 15 Midland youths hired for the Youth Corps have started working. Five others are to be placed.

Two are working as playground instructors at the Midcrest Community Center, two are custodial aides for the Housing Authority at Midcrest, two are custodial aides at the center headquarters, two are working at the new library at the center and two are working as custodial aides for the housing authority at Vanport.

Mrs. Jones said more job openings are needed. In other business, it was reported that the library at the center is proving successful and is being used by many area children who have

Emergencies Confine Four To Hospital

A Chester woman hurt in a fall down steps, a city child injured on a sliding board, a Wellsville youth struck with a ball bat and a Wellsville area youth hurt on a stick were admitted Tuesday to City Hospital, where 11 other area residents were treated.

Mrs. Carrie Hasson of 234 Virginia Ave., Chester, is in "fair" condition with injuries received in the fall down steps at home.

Michael Camerlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Camerlin of 915 Vine St., is in "fair" condition with a bruise and abrasions on the forehead sustained in the fall from a sliding board onto a cement landing.

The guns generally are cylindrical, hollow, pen-shaped objects, approximately four inches long. At one end there is a coil spring and a sliding bolt mechanism. At the other end, there is a vacant space for a cartridge to be inserted. The device is fired, by pulling back and releasing a trigger, which propels the bolt to the cartridge exploding it, forcing out wadding and tear gas.

If you are in the market for a tear gas gun device, do not consider any that have no warning statement attached, city health officials urge.

Richard Madison, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Madison of Wellsville RD 1, is "fair" with a throat injury received when he fell on a stick.

Treated were Rodney Heath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Heath of the Glendale Rd., Newell, abrasions and contusions of the nose in a fall while running; John H. Diddle of 403 McIntosh Rd., Wellsville, a left knee injury while playing baseball.

John Pasquale, son of Mrs. Carmela Pasquale of 1501 Main St., Wellsville, a laceration of the left hand on a pen knife; Mary Drago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Drago of 410 Broadway, lacerations and abrasions of the left knee in a fall from a bicycle.

Dan Shultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shultz of 400 8th St., Wellsville, a scalp laceration when he was struck with a brick; Lori Kay Hunley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ermal Hunley of Paul St., a puncture wound of the left foot on a nail.

2 Bound Over In Auto Theft

DIXON, Ill. (AP)

— Unless a Leonidas, Mich., truck driver changes his mind about paying a fine of $1,584, he may spend 10½ months in the Lee County Jail.

They are Terry Wolfe, 18, of 108 W. Drury Ln. and Raymond L. Poole, 23, of 108 E. 6th St., named in affidavits filed by Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. and Patrolman Paul C. Blevins alleging that they stole a 1966 two-door sedan owned by James C. Wilkins of 1116 Vine St. The car was found abandoned early July 12 at St. Clair Ave. and Franklin St.

Both defendants pleaded not guilty at arraignment last Friday. Poole was represented by Lawrence W. Smith Jr. and Wolfe had Bernard Fineman as counsel. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark appeared for the prosecution.

The contested hearing began shortly after 10 a.m. and was not concluded until about 12:15 p.m. After ordering the two held for court, the judge continued their $1,000 appearance bonds.

Granting a motion of defense counsel, which was concurred in by the prosecution, the judge ordered a continuance in two charges of malicious destruction of property against each defendant pending the outcome of the auto theft case in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

Each is accused of breaking a window at The Review building valued at $5,600 and causing a hole in a plate glass window at the WOHI building valued at $60. A full can of beer was hurled through the window at the newspaper plant. Police have not determined what type of missile damaged the window at WOHI.

Appearance bonds of $25 were forfeited by David Reichbaum,

17, Cleveland, cited for unsafe operation, and James E. Stopka, 17, Streetsboro, cited for speeding.

vere damage to the front end, while only minor damage resulted to the rear of the trailer.

Kryszek was cited for unsafe

Anti-Riot Bill Vote Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — While the House considers an antiriot bill supporters claim will jail traveling trouble-makers, two Cabinet members contend the causes for riots can be found in city conditions.

Almon B. Foster was fined Tuesday by Magistrate Morey Pires for having a load 15,840 pounds overweight. An overweight fine generally is set at 10 cents a pound.

Foster told Pires he would rather spend the time in jail than pay the fine.

The bill-up for a vote today would make it a federal crime punishable by up to five years in jail and a $10,000 fine to cross state lines or use interstate facilities to incite a riot.

Its author, Rep. William C. Cramer, R-Fla., says it would put militant Negro leader Stokeley Carmichael in jail and bring the FBI into the investigation of riots.

But civil rights groups, labor unions and a handful of House members say it would inflame the tensions that touch off riots and be useless as a weapon to deal with violence.

Despite such opposition, however, the bill is expected to win overwhelming approval. The House adopted a similar measure last year 388 to 25 but it died in the Senate.

Opponents hope to raise questions about the constitutionality and effectiveness of the proposed law in hopes the Senate will amend or defeat it.

QUESTION -- "Ordinarily, how much is paid by Social Security as a lump sum death benefit?"

ANSWER -- A lump sum payment is usually paid to the widow, widower or the individual who paid the funeral expenses. Ordinarily, the lump sum paid is three times the amount of the monthly retirement benefit, but will not exceed two hundred fifty five dollars.

Merchants Arm, Reduce Crime In Michigan Town

HIGHLAND PARK, Mich. (AP)—Police Chief William E. Stephens credited gun-totting merchants Tuesday for the fact that no store in this city of 38,000 has been robbed in almost three months.

"The crooks must be scared," said Stephens. "And they should be. The merchants aren't just armed, they're getting to be experts with their pistols."

Many merchants in Highland Park, a city surrounded by Detroit, began arming themselves three months ago as a defense against frequent holdups.

Stephens' department trained some in use of firearms in hopes of curtailing the holdup rate, which ranged between 8 and 10 robberies a week.

Fontana Sisters Go 'Sporty' With Fashion Changes

ROME (AP)—The Fontana Sisters, Italy's famous fashion trio, have surprised Rome fashion presentations with a show full of vim and vigor.

These shrewd stylists would be the first to admit that a sporty young look has not been their image. But suddenly that has been changed with the collaboration of a talented young man who calls himself "Yorn."

Country casuals in tawny tweeds teamed pedal pusher pants with dashing jackets and chunky turtle-collar sweaters.

The models showed them at a spanking pace which peppep up the clothes even more.

Cute little "Alice in Wonderland" boots in white patent leather were laced up to the ankle. Stockings were in white rib with turnover cuffs.

Capes in cream-smooth gabardine swung over calf-length skirts clasped round the waist with wide leather belts. Gold ball-bearing buttons studded patch pockets, cuff tabs and martingale belts.

Funnel-necked dresses were belted well south of the waist with big, shiny oval buckles in the same shade as the dress.

Shepherds' smocks attached to brief pleated skirts gave blousing a boost. The smocks were Shirred in honeycomb stitch around the neck and at the dropped waist line.

Sunday Liquor Sales Sought By Ohio Hotels, Restaurants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Representatives of Ohio hotels, convention bureaus, and country clubs have called for passage of a controversial bill to permit Sunday sale of liquor.

They told the House Government Operations Committee Tuesday night that a bill by Rep. R. R. Hollington Jr., R-56 Shaker Heights, Cuyahoga, and others would help Ohio's big cities attract convention business as well as pump millions of dollars into the state's economy.

Hollington's bill would permit Sunday sales between 1 p.m. and midnight by present permit holders only with a fee for a special D-7 permit of $2,500 a year. Sunday sales would be subject to local option elections.

Committee Chairman Charles Fry R-9 Clark called another hearing on the bill for this afternoon and said it would be devoted to opponents. They are certain to include the Ohio Council on Alcohol Problems (formerly the Ohio Temperance League) and others who oppose Sunday sales on religious and moral grounds.

James Carney, representing the Cleveland Convention Bureau, told the committee that Sunday sales in Cleveland would help draw convention business which in turn would

Youth Progressing Well After Kidney Transplant

July 14 marked a very special day for the family of Mr. and Mrs. Jack N. Betts of 642 Oakridge Dr., Boardman, whose 15-year-old son Randy underwent a kidney transplant a year ago.

Mrs. Betts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Plant of 334 W. Drury Ln., said a year ago last Friday their son underwent the transplant at the Cleveland Clinic Hospital in a rare operation designed to correct a congenital malfunction of the kidneys. Unlike the transplant operation between brothers and sisters or parents and children, the kid-

Although the Cleveland Clinic has not rendered a final judgment on the operation's success or failure, all the family agrees it has been a "most successful year."

Board Adopts Amendments

Changes In Sewage Code Become Effective Sept. 1

LISBON — Copies of Columbian County's amended sewage code will be available at 50 cents within two weeks at the Health Department office on the third floor of the Courthouse in the county.

The code was adopted early in 1966 and went into effect July 1 last year. Operators not meeting requirements for a Grade-A milk permit were given a provisional permit and allowed 18 months to comply with the regulations. The 18-month period will end next December and there is no appeal from action the state takes for non compliance, Stockdale said.

The code provides that a board of health may suspend a dairy's provisional permit if by Sept. 1 it has not taken steps to comply with the regulations. Stockdale said the Lippincott's have done nothing toward compliance in over a year. Two other dairies in the General Health District are taking action to meet the standards and will likely qualify to sell Grade-A milk, he added.

HARRY STOCKDALE, sanitarian, said the changes should not come as a surprise to contractors and septic tank installers since they have been under study and discussion more than a year.

The $7 fee — $5 for a permit and $2 for the inspection — has been increased to $12, the permit now costing $10.

Stockdale said the county's fee is among the lowest in the state and compares with the $15 to $25 most other counties have had for years.

The minimum - size septic tank the department will approve has been increased from 500 to 1,000 gallons.

In addition, contractors must install a riser at least 12 inches in diameter from the manhole in the top of the tank to within at least six inches of the surface of the ground. Dr. Singer said many tanks now in use are buried so deeply he "wonders if anyone ever uncovers the manholes to pump the tanks."

Under the new regulations, the last joint of pipe from the house to tank and the first joint from the tank overflow must be at least four feet long, longer if necessary, to bridge fill dirt around the tank.

HARRY AND Perry Lippincott, who operate Lippincott's Dairy, Inc., in West Township, attended the meeting in response to a letter advising them they face loss of their provisional permit Sept. 1 unless they begin to meet standards of the state milk regulations in effect in the county.

DR. SINGER submitted the following monthly report of Health Department operations:

Medical division — Immunizations: whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus shots, 23; polio, 15; measles and GG, 17; and vaccinations, 7.

Disease: Rheumatic fever, 4; venereal, 6; home calls, 5; doctors' offices, 6; consultations, 28, and physical examinations for welfare children going to camp, 5.

Plumbing inspector — Plumbing, 77; sewage, 19; water, 6; nuisances, 3, and consultations, 9. Plumbing permits, 47; sewage permits, 46.

Sanitarians I and II — Inspections: sewage, 40; water, 39; food service, 40; nuisances, 38; trailer parks, 4; milk, 2; swimming pools, 2; camps, 1; food establishments, 5; plumbing, 2, and consultations, 45.

Commissioners Urged To Act

Planning Group Presses Adoption Of Regulations

LISBON — The Columbian County Regional Planning Commission urged county commissioners Tuesday night to adopt subdivision regulations presented to them earlier this year.

Floyd Lower of Lisbon, RPC president, presided during the meeting in the commissioners' office at the Courthouse. James W. Boyd of East Liverpool, president, was the only commissioner present.

The commission appointed James L. Morrissey of Lisbon, an RPC director, and John Ursu of Salem, county engineer, to meet with the commissioners to iron out differences and answer questions.

Richard Sanford of East Liverpool, chairman of the subdivision regulations committee, said he cannot understand the commissioners' refusal to accept the regulations and make them law.

He said the RPC made changes suggested at a public hearing in May but the county commissioners failed to act on the revised regulations and as late as last Thursday suggested other changes, some contradictory to changes previously suggested.

Boyd said it is his opinion the regulations would take some authority away from the county board.

Horace McLean of Youngstown, engineering consultant preparing the RPC comprehensive plan, spoke in support of 19.

The bill was drafted and pushed by the Ohio Municipal League, which maintains growing suburbs have no other means of obtaining revenue to provide needed services. Cities say their suburbs now are getting various city services such

4-H Names 7 For Contests At State Fair

LISBON — Seven older 4-H'ers won trips to the Ohio State Fair for placing high Tuesday night in the Columbiana County demonstration contest at Lincoln School.

Both will be for a five-year period and voted on separately.

The board adopted a 1967-68 budget of $683,291, which is $46,000 more than the previous figure.

Calvin Graber, superintendent, said the additional money is needed to provide for maintenance and repair of buildings, to replace worn out equipment, to provide supplies of all kinds and give school personnel "a schedule."

The board approved the re-routing of several bus runs to avoid using a Pennsylvania Railroad grade crossing on Fairfield Township Rd. 790 (also known as Sand Bank Rd. and Beeson Mill Rd.).

Parents of that area had petitioned against proposed use of the crossing by school buses.

Bids of the following concerns were accepted:

Hoppe's Goodyear, Columbiana, bus tires; Corey Shell, Columbiana, gasoline and oil; Keystone Bakeries, Youngstown, bread; Beverly Farms, Alliance, milk; Nationwide Insurance Co. (Lower Agency), Columbiana, bus insurance, and Jack Beilhart, Leetonia, typewriter maintenance and repairs.

Outdoors, Individual — Don Huston and Charles Converse, both of Salem Township Junior Farmers' Group — Carrie Pease, Gail Stoll and Chris Stoll, all of Rogers Busy Gals and Pals.

Indoors, individual — Ray Ann Sitler, Leetonia Try, Try Again; Lu Ann Gipp, Butler Sew Merrily; Sharon Weaver, Highland Busy Bodies. Teams — Debbie Rice and Marsha Mountz, Guilford Country Cousins; Denice Reess and Beth Strouse, Fairfield Junior Homemakers No. 2, and Karen Woods and Kathy Voytek, Winona Jolly Bunch.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the Eells Leggett Funeral Home, with the Rev. Donald E. Blom of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial will be in Cresthaven Memorial Park at Ross.

Area Firm's Bid Low For Resurfacing Job

The Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Wheeling is the apparent low bidder for resurfacing of 3.6 miles of W.Va. 2, the New Cumberland-U.S. 30 road.

Its bid of $102,135.87 was one of many opened Tuesday by the State Road Commission at Charleston for highway improvements in 17 West Virginia counties.

The board also announced it will open bids Aug. 16 on repair of the No. 2 standpipe, one of the big water towers on Henry Ave., North Side.

Murtaugh Sees Bucs Split After Walker Is Dismissed

By IRA MILLER
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It didn't take Danny Murtaugh long to find out why Harry Walker was fired.

All it took was two pitches by Billy O'Dell that ruined a good pitching job by Tommie Sisk and a Pirate doubleheader sweep against San Francisco into a split Tuesday night.

Willie McCovey slammed O'Dell's second pitch for a two-run homer and a 3-2 Giant victory after Pittsburgh won the first game 8-6.

That marked the fourth time in eight games since the All-Star break that baseball's best hitting team got good pitching and lost.

Walker pinpointed it as he unwound in the living room of his suburban home Tuesday afternoon before Murtaugh even put on a uniform.

"Just one more hit a day, that's all it would have taken," he said. "But that's baseball."

Murtaugh, who stepped down in 1964 after managing the Pirates for 7½ seasons, was talked out of retirement by General Manager Joe Brown only 19 days after Brown said Walker would be his manager for a "long time."

That "long time" ended Monday when Brown said, he decided Walker would have to go if the Pirates were to escape from the second division.

"I'm allowed to change my mind," Brown said. "Anyone making a hard and fast statement that could never be changed would be an idiot. I like to believe that I'm not idiotic."

Tuesday morning Brown told Walker he was fired and Murtaugh was announced as interim manager at a hastily-called afternoon news conference. The coaching staff—John Pesky, Alex Grammas, Clyde King and Hal Smith—remained intact.

The 49-year-old Murtaugh, who had been a special administrative assistant to Brown, guided Pittsburgh to its only world championship in the past 40 years in 1960. His overall record was 605 wins and 548 defeats.

At the end of the 1964 season, he said he wouldn't manage again because of a weak stomach, saying managing put too much of a strain on his health.

"I came back only because Joe Brown asked me to," Murtaugh said, emphasizing he would manage only through the end of the season.

Brown Felt Change Had To Be Made

HARRY WALKER
No Longer Bucs Manager.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 19, 1967 PAGE 13

Murtaugh said he was still getting the feel of the job and it would probably be several games before he might make any changes.

"I've been away for a couple of years and naturally everything seems new to me," he said early this morning after the long doubleheader that left the Pirates 7½ games behind league-leading St. Louis.

"I've only seen three games all season (before Tuesday). I guess in the last three years I've only seen about seven National League games.

"I saw the American League a lot last year when I was scouting. In fact I'd say right now I know more about the American

"I never played for a more dedicated man," Law said.

Captain Bill Mazeroski said he change managers than players. hated to see anyone get fired.

"They've played it that way for 100 years and it's never fun when it falls in your lap but sometimes it just happens that way," he said.

Walker's record for 2½ years was 224-184. His 1965 and 1966 clubs both placed third.

Walker was the second major league manager fired this season.

On June 9, the Minnesota Twins, then sixth six games out, axed Sam Mele and hired Cal Ermer, who has led them into second place within a game of the American League lead.

Can Murtaugh similarly revive the Pirates?

"Time will tell," he said hopefully.

Reds Stop Cards With 7-Run Inning

Phil Regan, As Starter, Beats Phils

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Vulture was ready to glide back to his favorite perch today after a rare distance flight that picked apart the Philadelphia Phillies.

Relief specialist Phil Regan, who earned the "Vulture" tag last season in swooping out of the Los Angeles bullpen for 14 late-inning victories, beat Philadelphia 2-1 Tuesday night in his first start in nearly two years.

"I have no illusion. I still like the bullpen," Regan said after working seven strong innings in his National League debut as a starter. "But this start did me good. It helped me straighten myself out."

It also prevented the Dodgers from folding up after they dropped the twi-night double-header opener 5-0 to Rick Wise, who scattered four hits for his first major league shutout.

Regan's clutch performance—with an assist from Ron Perranoski in the last two innings—kept the eighty-place Dodgers one game in front of the New York Mets, who trounced Houston 4-2 and sent the Astros into the cellar.

The Pittsburgh Pirates gave new Manager Danny Murtaugh a winning sendoff with an 8-6 verdict over San Francisco before the Giants came back to take the doubleheader nightcap 3-2. The Chicago Cubs beat Atlanta 9-3 and moved within one game of first-place St. Louis, beaten by Cincinnati 7-4.

Manager Walter Alston gave Regan his first starting assignment in 96 appearances for the Dodgers after rookie Bill Singer came up with a sore arm. The 30-year-old right-hander, who had been struggling along with a 2-4 record, responded by holding the Phils to five hits and striking out six before giving way to Perranoski.

Len Gabrielson provided the margin of victory with a two-run homer in the second inning.

Regan last started for Detroit in September 1965. The Tigers traded him to Los Angeles that winter and he came through with a 14-1 mark in 65 relief stints last year.

The Reds buried the Cardinals with a seven-run burst in the seventh inning keyed by Dick Simpson's three-run double. Jim Maloney, lifted for a pinch-hitter during the winning rally after being tagged for homers by Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda, picked up his eighth victory in 13 decisions.

New York's Hal Reniff came out of the bullpen in the sixth inning and blanked Houston on two hits the rest of the way, protecting the Mets' two-run edge and extending his scoreless string to 18 innings. He has not yielded a run in nine appearances since the Mets acquired him from the Yankees three weeks ago.

Bud Harrelson stole home in the fifth inning, snapping a 2-2 tie, after Ed Mathews' two-run homer had pulled the Astros even in the top of the fifth.

Don Kessinger drove in five runs with two doubles and two singles and right-hander Ferguson Jenkins boosted his pitching mark to 12-7 as the Cubs rolled to their fourth straight victory and snapped Atlanta's four-game winning string.

Twins Miss Chance As Sox Lose

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Nash stumbled over Harmon Killebrew again, but it was Killebrew and the Minnesota Twins who fell flat on their faces and missed another chance to share the American League lead.

Killebrew slammed his 27th homer and fourth off Nash this season, but he and the Twins got their lumps later on a controversial play that insured last-place Kansas City's 5-2 victory over Minnesota Tuesday night.

Nash combined with Jack Aker for a three-hitter, keeping the Twins a game behind the league-leading Chicago White Sox after Minnesota missed a similar chance to pull into a tie Monday.

FLANKED BY MICROPHONES, newsmen and photographers, Pittsburgh Pirates General Manager, Joe L. Brown announced Tuesday that Danny Murtaugh would manage the remainder of the season replacing Harry Walker who was fired. (UPI Telephoto)

Frazier Rates 2½-1 Pick

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'll be out there smoking. That means working every minute, every second. I know nobody ever knocked him down but there always is the first time," said Joe Frazier, unbeaten No. 2 heavyweight contender.

"It's do or die. I know I've got to win. I'm in the prime of life and I have the style to beat him. I think I can knock him out," said George Chuvalo, oft-beaten Canadian champion.

Frazier, winner of 16 straight, is a 2½-1 favorite over Chuvalo, who went 15 rounds with Cassius Clay a year ago, when they meet tonight in a 12-round match at Madison Square Garden.

Because both are aggressive fighters who like to walk in and punch, a crowd of 15,000 is expected to pay over $100,000 to see the bout which will be televised nationally, with New York blacked out, on a special Garden-RKC General network. Ring time is 10 p.m. EDT.

Both fighters are passing up the World Boxing Association's eight-man tournament to deter-

Senators' Streak Is Ended

The White Sox held their lead despite a 6-3 loss to California, which climbed within 3½ games of the Sox.

Boston and Detroit also moved up. The Red Sox closed within 2½ games by beating Baltimore 6-2 behind Jim Lonborg and Earl Wilson pitched the Tigers within 3½ games by stopping Washington 5-2. The New York Yankees were rained out at Cleveland.

Ken Harrelson had doubled home two unearned runs and scored a third in the first inning, giving Nash a 3-0 lead. But Killebrew, who beat Nash with two homers in one game and homered in another victory over him, closed the deficit to 3-2 with a two-run shot in the fourth inning.

It was 4-2 when the decisive play occurred in the seventh. Killebrew had walked, took second on a balk and tried to score on Tony Oliva's single, but Killebrew missed the plate as he and catcher Phil Roof collided and Roof tagged him out. Roof then threw out Oliva trying for second, completing a strange doubleplay.

"It had to be obstruction by the catcher," said an inflamed Twins' Manager Cal Ermer. "He was 12-15 feet up the line at least and he doesn't have the ball yet."

"I was in the act of catching the ball and that's the way the umpire ruled it," Roof explained. "He hit my hip as I turned. I think that's what flipped him over the plate. Harmon wasn't mad—he said he wasn't trying to hurt him."

"That's a play you make once a year," said Nash, who suffered a muscle spasm in his right leg striking out the next batter, and Aker finished up.

Bobby Knoop's two-run single climaxed a four-run first inning off Gary Peters, 11-5, and started the Angels to their 29th victory in 41 games.

Bill Kelso saved rookie Ricky Clark's sixth straight triumph with 31-3 innings of relief, yielding only a two-out homer by Walt Williams in the ninth.

Lonborg became the first 13-game winner this season as he halted the Orioles on five hits including Curt Motton's two-run homer, with 11 strikeouts. He also contributed a run-scoring single in a five-run second inning that wrapped the Red Sox' fifth straight victory.

Wilson, who has been criticized for running out of gas in the late innings, hurled his fifth complete game, a five-hitter, and drove in two runs as the Tigers ended a seven-game losing string.

"You go out there and pitch for two hours," Wilson told an inquiring reporter, "and see if you get tired."

Wilson had a two-hit shutout entering the ninth, but had to survive a Washington flurry as he snapped the Senators' eighth-game winning streak, their longest since 1949.

Won't Ask Permission To Move, Claims Finley

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles O. Finley will not seek permission to move the Kansas City Athletics at the major league meetings in August but neither has he closed the door on a possible franchise shift.

Finley met with the Jackson County Sports Authority for nearly two hours Tuesday in a session which was termed "cordial" by both sides.

Dutton Brookfield, spokesman for the sports authority which is building a $43-million sport complex to include separate football and baseball stadiums under a rolling dome, said he was "optimistic" after meeting with Finley.

"We did not ask for a specific commitment from Mr. Finley since this was our first meeting," said Brookfield. "But we are very hopeful we can negotiate a long-term lease to put the A's in our new sports complex."

In addition to the new stadium which will be completed by 1970 only if Kansas City has a baseball team, said Brookfield, there will be ample parking and higher radio and television rights.

Patriots Begin Contract Talks With Star Nance

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Patriots held their first practice, but the major scrimmage took place off the field.

While 20 rookie and 10 veterans were going through their paces at the American Football League club's camp in Andover, Mass., Tuesday, a verbal scrimmage was shaping up in the office of Mike Holovak, general manager and coach.

The subject was a new contract for fullback Jim Nance, who was not present.

Instead the AFL's Most Valuable Player of 1966 sent his lawyer to the negotiations, about which Holovak said:

"You would have to say these were preliminary talks."

Nance is scheduled to report with most of the rest of the club Thursday evening.

While the Patriots were trying to sign Nance, the AFL Kansas City Chiefs still were trying to find tight end Billy Masters, their third draft choice from Louisiana State.

U.S. Olympic Group Plans For High-Altitude Drills

By JERRY LISKA

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The U.S. Olympic track and field committee plans, starting next week, to initiate a long-range, high-altitude training program for the 1968 Olympic Games at 7,500-foot-high Mexico City.

The program, announced today by Hilmer Lodge of Pala, Calif., committee chairman, involves preliminary training during August by prospective Olympic runners at distances ranging upwards from 800 meters at four high altitude areas.

Lodge made the announcement as the U.S. squad was in the second day of a three-day exodus to the fifth Pan-American Games which open in Winnipeg Sunday.

The high-altitude training will begin in earnest after the Olympic trials at Los Angeles next June 29-30, and prior to official selection of the U.S. team Sept. 12, 1968. The Mexico City Games will be held Oct. 12-27, with the Olympic Village opening Sept. 15.

Lodge and Bill Bowerman, Oregon's famed distance coach and chairman of an Olympic high-altitude training committee, will recommend to the full Olympic committee meeting in Chicago Sept. 8-10 that at least six men be tested at high altitude for each Olympic endurance event before the final team selection.

Thus, instead of the top three finishers in the involved events clinching berths at the Los Angeles trials, there will be six-man battles for Olympic assignments at Alamosa, Colo., Los Alamos, N.M., Flagstaff, Ariz., or South Lake Tahoe, Calif., next midsummer.

These are the four sites surveyed and approved by Lodge and Bowerman for informal training next month. Two or three, or all four sites could be certified for the post-Olympic trials training next year.

Alamosa, Los Alamos and Flagstaff all are about 7,500 feet above sea level and South Lake Tahoe 6,200.

Chances for surviving to age 65 have remained about the same during the past decade.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My dad and mother had been married 40 years when Mother died. A year later Dad married a very sweet, grandmotherly woman 15 years his junior. Doris was a good wife to him and they were happy.

Six years later Dad died and left everything to Doris. This was fine with me, as I was very fond of Doris and she treated me just like she treated her own children.

A few weeks ago Doris died. I almost went into a state of shock when I learned that Doris had left everything to her own grandchildren. This included the money she received when she sold my dad's business, the home my dad and mother lived in for many years, all the furnishings, her jewelry and the life insurance she received when Dad died.

My children needed that inheritance and we were counting on it. I'm so bitter I don't think I will ever get over this. It kills me to learn that Dad thought so little of us that he would allow such a thing to happen. Please help me get some peace of mind. — WORLD DESTROYED.

Dear Destroyed: I suspect most of your anxiety stems from the notion that your father "thought so little of you, etc." — but chances are that he did not think at all. He probably expected to live longer and write a will "some day."

This is, of course, unrealistic. The results of such poor thinking can be disastrous. I hope your letter will be a reminder to others who are procrastinating for reasons of superstition or just plain reluctance to face the fact that they will not live forever.

A Lesson Learned

Dear Ann: Add me to the endless list of people who never thought they'd be writing to you. I just had to respond to the man who signed his letter, "No Bargain Myself."

He is right when he says it's hell to live with an emotionally disturbed person. I know because my husband was a severe alcoholic. I tried for years to fight his battle. I lied for him when I should have been encouraging him to help himself. Finally, I cracked under the strain.

This is a rough and demanding world and while many people are making it, everyone, no matter how strong, has a breaking point. To be emotionally healthy is the greatest of all blessings.

Board Approves Bid For Truck

A low bid of $2,700 by Midland Auto Sales on a half-ton pickup truck was accepted by the Midland Municipal Authority during a meeting Monday night at the water department building. The total bid was $3,362, with a $662 trade-in allowance on the department's 8-year-old service truck.

Midland Auto Sales also quoted a $3,100 figure, without a trade-in allowance.

The only other bid was from Migliore Ford Sales at $3,498, less a $698 trade-in, for a net of $2,800. Migliore also quoted $3,140 without a trade-in.

The authority signed contracts payment.

on a proposed $342,000 water distribution system expansion. The contracts, which already had been signed by the construction company, will be submitted to the EDA for final approval this week.

A pre-construction meeting between the authority, the borough engineer and the contractors is expected to be held as soon as final EDA approval is received.

Rudy Presutti, chairman, said actual construction should begin by the time of the next regular meeting Aug. 21. A 10-month span is expected before the new system is in operation.

Bills totaling $28,349 for water, $3,211 for sewage and $371 for parking were approved for the authority signed contracts payment.

Space Scientists List Surveyor As Failure

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Jet Propulsion Laboratory scientists gave up today trying to coax Surveyor 4 to respond from the moon, writing off the mission as a failure.

A spokesman said the Canberra, Australia, and Goldstone, Calif., tracking stations sent signals to the 2,290-pound vehicle Monday and early today, but received no response.

A committee is trying to find out whether the craft landed as planned or crashed. No time has been set for its report, the spokesman said.

Surveyor responded to instructions from its launching last week until Sunday night.

Surveyor was to land on the moon to prospect for iron-bearing particles in the soil and televised the operation to earth.

Playing It Cool

LBJ Remains Off Stage, Regains Lost Popularity

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Dwight D. Eisenhower, with no political experience when he took office, and President Johnson, who had plenty, worked out for themselves independently a simple technique which paid off.

This, the only thing the two men may have had in common, might be called: Easy does it, or don't make any extra trouble if you can help it.

In private both men have been credited with explosive tempers and tart tongues toward people who annoyed them. Publicly they avoided name-calling, which can turn an opponent into an enemy, and needless arguments which Johnson once described as shouting matches.

WHILE HOT arguments stir interest, they also give everybody an excuse for choosing sides and they fill some people with distaste. If a politician can't be liked, at least he doesn't relish being disliked, which is true of Johnson.

Eisenhower had a rather placid presidency but he managed to keep dislike down so much he was elected twice overwhelmingly. Johnson got elected overwhelmingly the first time and is expected to try again in 1968.

His strong point is ability, his weak one is personality. He appeared to forget that in his first two years, if he realized it at all at the time, and couldn't stay away from the television cameras.

There is little doubt the overexposure—part of his deep-rooted desire to be liked—with his unskilled gestures and overdone facial expressions did him harm. His ratings in the public opinion polls dribbled down into the basement.

That the cause of this was his personality, and not anything he did wrong as president, seems clear enough because, while he didn't chalk up any stirring triumphs, he didn't flop into any obvious disasters, either.

And, except for Vietnam and sending troops into the Dominican Republic upheavals, he managed to stay clear of big controversies.

There is little doubt the overexposure—part of his deep-rooted desire to be liked—with his unskilled gestures and overdone facial expressions did him harm. His ratings in the public opinion polls dribbled down into the basement.

IN HIS VERY successful Senate years he was always at his best working out solutions with his colleagues behind the scenes, colleagues behind the scenes, not in his speeches on the Senate floor.

It took him a while to grasp this but he did, beginning late last year, when without explanation he called a halt to his public appearances for a while and thereafter abandoned dramatics for the simple, direct approach in public.

A change occurred in his popularity.

Last week the AFL-CIO said a poll of its 13.5 million members showed they greatly favored Johnson's re-election. A separate public opinion poll showed his popularity had shot up.

To some extent this could have been expected after his meeting with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and his nimble-footed avoidance of involvement in the Arab-Israeli war. Yet, in both cases Johnson avoided dramatics.

Those who think the bill is hinged with the budget battle theorize that the flat racing measure has been moving too fast in comparison with the budget and tax bills.

The bill would authorize four organizations to operate flat tracks throughout the state, each with a 100-day meeting. Estimates on the revenue to be obtained from the sport range from a low of $15 million to a high of $50 million.

Only harness racing is legal in the Commonwealth.

As an example of what is meant by Johnson's return to the methods of his Senate days, with little public fireworks and a lot of hard work out of sight:

In last year's 43-day strike against major airlines, Johnson, instead of taking drastic action to end the walkout, let it drag on, hoping for a settlement, and then, in the end, tried dramatics with unhappy results.

He got the leaders of both sides to agree to a settlement and then rushed on television to announce it proudly. Shortly afterwards the rank-and-file union members repudiated the settlement, which left embarrassed Johnson holding the bag.

This week he acted swiftly, through Congress, to end the railroad strike and did it in two days. This time he stayed out of sight. What the public will remember is that Johnson did what the public wanted without going on camera to show what a great man he was.

St. Ann's Church Will Open Annual Event On Thursday

The seventh annual summer festival of St. Ann's Church in East End will be held Thursday through Saturday at the church grounds.

The event will begin with a dinner Thursday from 4 to 7 p.m. at the church hall.

Entertainment for both young and adult groups will be featured, including 17 booths. Many prizes in various categories will be given and special musical entertainment will be offered nightly.

Refreshments will be served.

The festival was launched seven years ago to help defray expenses of St. Ann's share of the cost of operating St. Aloysius School. Approximately 23 percent of St. Aloysius School students are boys and girls of St. Ann's parish. The movement was started by Fr. Richard Buchman, who later was transferred to Orwell, Ohio. Since then it has been continued by the succeeding pastors, including Fr. William H. Hohman, now serving.

The festival committee is headed by Donald A. Ramsey, chairman; Mrs. Mary K. Hocking, co-chairman, assisted by Frank A. Arcuri, who has served as treasurer for the event since it started, and Mrs. Marcella Pantoni.

Other committee members include Mrs. Mary Valleria, outdoor food and refreshments; Mrs. Neil Hayden, tickets; Mrs. Pantoni, dinner; Arcuri, publicity; Don Ramsey and Mrs. Hocking, stands, and Ramsey, Mrs. Hocking, Arcuri and Mrs. Pantoni, purchasing.

Fr. Hohman serves as the overall chairman of all committees.

By HAL HUMPHREY
Another Police Series

Encouraged by the new success of "Dragnet" since he brought it back to TV early this year, Jack Webb is now planning another police series.

"It's really what you might call the other half of 'Dragnet,' because it has to do with a pair of uniformed police unit, and the title of it will be in a black-and-white cruiser unit, and the title of it will be 'Adam-12,' which is the number of their unit as designated by the dispatcher calling them on radio," says Webb.

"We haven't cast it yet, but the fellows will be young. The one will be starting on his first night. He's about 25, and the other guy is 32 or 33, just as they usually are in real life. It's going to be the Los Angeles Police Department, as 'Dragnet' has always been," Webb adds.

WHY DO another police show on TV? Well, as Bob Cinader, his associate, told Webb, "It's the thing you do best, and nobody has done the uniformed cop before."

These seemed to be reasons enough for Webb, although it isn't quite true that it hasn't been done. A few seasons ago there was the comedy series, "Car 54, Where Are You?", which was well done but couldn't buck the competition of Ed Sullivan on Sunday nights.

Webb's "Adam-12" will be a serious attempt to show not only the crimes but other problems confronted by what amounts to the cop-on-the-beat in a metropolitan city. Like with "Dragnet," Webb has the permission of the Los Angeles Police Department to use its shield and base his episodes of "Adam-12" on actual cases. The department, he points out, then really has creative control.

BUT THAT'S never cramped our style on "Dragnet," Webb says. "I think in fact, the technical restrictions have made it better. And if there's a difference between 'Dragnet' and the other shows it's because of this."

Webb envisions more of a sense of immediacy in "Adam-12" by the way (which he hopes to sell to a network for a first-of-the-year start) because it's the man in the cruisgeles.

several shots at him, deputies said. He notified authorities and was talking with deputy Homer Burlike when he was fatally wounded.

A truck belonging to Maddox was found near the scene of the slaying.

Mixed MarriageGiven Tennessee*Aide's Approval

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) —

and his white fiancee plan to be married Friday in the first recorded interracial marriage in Tennessee.

The way was cleared for the state attorney general's office ruled that a county court clerk has no authority to deny a license to a racially mixed couple if they have otherwise complied with the law.

McDaniel, 29, and Joyce Pre-cott, 34, were denied a marriage license last Thursday by the probate master in the office of Spiller Campbell, the probate master, cited Tennessee's anti-miscegenation law and the state constitution's prohibition on interracial marriages.

Campbell said at the time,

"We have to be bound by the existing law until it is declared invalid."

But Milton Rice, an assistant state attorney general, wrote to County Court Clerk R. E. Worrell that a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision which overruled a similar Virginia statute invalidated Tennessee's bans against such marriages.

Attorney David Vincent said the couple plan to apply again

Friday for the license and be married in a quiet ceremony at the Nashville Metropolitan Courthouse.

Junior Editors Quiz on OXYGEN

QUESTION: Where does liquid oxygen come from and how is it used?

ANSWER: Oxygen has enormous importance for us. We must have it to breathe. It is necessary to make coal and oil burn. But the oxygen of the air, which is present as a gas we can't see, is not the only valuable form of oxygen. It is possible, by chilling air to a sufficiently low temperature, to turn it into a liquid. In an ordinary temperature, this liquid boils violently, turning back into gas. The nitrogen of the air boils off first and leaves a bluish liquid which is liquid oxygen. This can be preserved as a liquid and used in various ways, such as in making explosives for industry. But a very valuable use is in high altitude rockets. Our cross section (lower right) shows how liquid oxygen can flow from its tank and mix with the rocket fuel, oxidizing it so the fuel will burn. There then will be a blast in the combustion chamber; the exhaust gases will rush back out of the nozzle. This allows the pressure of the combustion to push forward, sending the rocket high up in its thrilling flight through space.

Kathy Craig of Vallejo, Calif., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.
